

VIRGINIA BANKERS WILL MEET IN JUNE

Seventeenth Annual Convention Will Be Held at Fortress Monroe.

NOTED SPEAKERS TO ATTEND

Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel Will Make Address.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lynchburg, Va., May 28.—The seventeenth annual convention of the Virginia Bankers' Association will be held at the Hotel Chamberlin, Fortress Monroe, on June 9, 10 and 11, and indications are now that the convention will be the best in the history of the association.

The principal speakers for the convention will be Hon. Charles Nagel, Secretary of Commerce and Labor, Washington; Royal Meeker, professor of political economy, of Princeton; Job E. Hedges, of the New York City bar, and E. P. Miller, president of the First National Bank, of this city.

For the entertainment of the visitors, Polk Miller, of Richmond, and his negro quartet, will give a concert on the evening of June 9, and the annual banquet will be held at the Chamberlin on the evening of June 10.

The program is as follows: First day, morning session—Prayer, Rev. James M. Owen, of Norfolk. Appointment of committee on resolutions. Annual address by President Henry A. Walker, of Staunton. Report of Secretary N. P. Gitting, of Lynchburg. Report of Treasurer J. H. Hill, of Richmond. Report of Attorney George Bryan, of Richmond. Report of executive council, Tench F. Tilghman, chairman, of Norfolk. Report of committee on banking and jurisprudence, Charles L. Wade, chairman, of Petersburg. Report of taxation committee, O. J. Sands, chairman, of Richmond. Report of bills of lading committee, Carroll Pierce, chairman, of Alexandria. Reports of groups. No. 1, H. N. Phillips, chairman, of Williamsburg; No. 2, W. M. Addison, chairman, of Richmond; No. 3, J. T. Burke, chairman, of Alexandria; No. 4, E. P. Miller, chairman, of Lynchburg; and No. 5, J. William Miller, chairman, of Pulaski.

Afternoon session—Address, Hon. Job E. Hedges, of the New York City bar. Address, "Security to Depositors Versus Guarantees," E. P. Miller, president of the First National Bank, of Lynchburg.

Friday Morning. Appointment of committee on nomination.

Address—"Segregation of Deposits," by Robert E. James, president of the Eastern Trust Company, Easton, Pa.

Address—"The Three R's of Industry," by Royal Meeker, professor of political economy, Princeton, N. J.

Friday Afternoon. Address—Hon. Charles Nagel, secretary of Commerce and Labor.

Saturday Morning. Report of committee on resolutions.

Unfinished business. Report of committee on nominations. Election and installation of officers. New business. Adjournment.

EXPELLING THE JEWS

Many Suffer Dire Hardships as Result of Russian Action. Kiev, Russia, May 28.—In addition to the deportations ordered by the government, the Jews of Kiev have been subjected to minor annoyances, such as the refusal of passports good over the year, and interference with their residences at summer resorts outside Kiev, where all those who are prosperous enough go during the heat of the summer. The law forbidding Jews to settle in the villages or on farms, in order to prevent their exploiting of simple peasantry.

A mounted police guard occupied the road leading to the resort region yesterday and turned back wagons containing the summer effects of Jews, except those showing special permits from the Governor.

The real hardships of the Jews are expected to come on June 14, when the time limit for their departure expires. More than 1,000 families have been officially notified that they must leave the city in accordance with the determination of the Russian government to drive back into the pale all the Hebrews who are unable to establish their legal right to remain outside its confines. But several hundred of them, who still remain here on various pretexts, will be expelled on that date. Although the Jewish relief committee is collecting funds for this contingency, it is feared many will face deportation by force rather than leave the city voluntarily. The committee has collected several thousand dollars.

NO FURTHER ACTION

Examining Board Finds Accident in Charleston Unavoidable. Washington, D. C., May 28.—The report of the Board of Inquiry into the cause of the recent accident on the cruiser Charleston whereby eight sailors lost their lives has been received at the Navy Department. It confirms fully the theory advanced by the ordnance officers here as to the cause of the accident—namely, that a bent or broken firing pin exploded the fuze, though it appears that the breach block was partly engaged before it blew out, as some of the threads were stripped. The accident is regarded as unavoidable, so there will be no further proceedings.

New President of Sullivan College. Bristol, Va., May 28.—The board of trustees of Sullivan College, a Methodist female school here, last night elected Rev. W. S. Neighbors, D. D., president of the institution. Dr. Neighbors, who served as associate president the past year, having been transferred from the Baltimore Methodist Conference, succeeds Dr. W. E. Martin as president, the latter having resigned to accept the presidency of the new Woman's College at Montgomery, Ala.

Traveling Libraries Supplied. During the past two weeks the following points in the State have been supplied with traveling libraries by the traveling library department of the State Library: Damascus, Washington county; Clifton, Campbell county; Farmer's Fork, Richmond county; Mt. Jackson, Shenandoah county; Lynchburg Young Men's Christian Association; West Lynchburg, Campbell county; Heathville, Northumberland county; Emory, Washington county; and Pearisburg, Giles county.

BRIBERY BOMB IS HURLED INTO LORIMER CAMP

merits of the matter. Upon the report of that committee the question will largely depend. Foremost in the answer of the Senator to the charge stood his assertion that it had been formulated by the Chicago Tribune with the purpose of destroying a new banking association in that city, which Mr. Lorimer has organized. Concluding, he offered a resolution calling for a senatorial investigation of the charges against him.

Defends Mr. Browne. Relating that it had been charged that the bribe had been paid through Hon. Lee O'Neill Browne, the Democratic leader of the Illinois House of Representatives, he defended Mr. Browne as entirely above participation in such a proceeding.

He declared that Medill McCormick, editor of the Tribune, had threatened that the bank should never open, and also asserted that White did not write the story, as had been claimed, but that it was "the work of a trained newspaper hand, skilled in the art of creating scandal out of lies, when it is not thought necessary to blacken the character of one whom the newspaper cannot control."

"It is also plain to be seen," he went on, "that every word was passed upon by a lawyer before it was signed by that poor, low creature White, who is a part of the lowest dregs of depravity."

Defending Charles Luke, a Democrat and deceased member of the Legislature, against a charge that he had been a beneficiary of his (Mr. Lorimer's) bribery, the Senator declared: "Standing in this historic chamber, in a place of high honor, to which my departed friend did all in his power to assist me, I would say that I am sure of my friendship and my high regard for him if I did not hurl this malicious, heartless, satanic lie back into the foul mouth that uttered it. There is no language to characterize such venomous, despicable conduct. This loathsome, detestable creature, Medill McCormick, guilty of this and numerous other crimes of decency, should and will be in the future, and in the past, shunned and avoided by all decent people."

Mr. Lorimer then proceeded in thousands and thousands of words to outline the history of modern politics in Chicago, and incidentally in the State, including Mr. Lorimer's several elections to the national House of Representatives.

Coming down to modern times, he declared that "all of the power of the city, county, State and Federal administrations, under the leadership of Senator Hopkins, Governor Deneen and Mayor Busse, assembled into a misfit organization" combined to destroy the organization controlled by Lorimer, with intent to give control to the Tribune.

Seeking Revenge. Senator Lorimer further attacked the Chicago Tribune's policy in opposition to the Payne-Aldrich tariff, attributing its failure to put in the first list wood pulp, which would have saved it $40,000 a year. "This," he said, "is the only way we have any record of in which the Tribune pays its just share."

Concluding, Mr. Lorimer asserted that the Tribune had dogged him all these years because it had not been able to lash him into subjection. "The purpose of these charges," he declared, "was to disgrace and destroy my friends and myself, whom they cannot control, and to come into absolute control of the Republican party in Illinois and to secure themselves in continued plundering of the public treasury."

Deneen Makes Statement. Springfield, Ill., May 28.—Governor Deneen to-day issued a statement in reference to the speech in the United States Senate in which he was attacked by Senator Lorimer.

"While the reports of Senator Lorimer's speech obtained by me to-day have been meagre, I understand the charges that I have entered into a conspiracy with the Chicago Tribune to have published the confession of Representative White.

"This charge is without any foundation of fact. The facts are as follows: About midnight of the day before the story was published a representative of the Chicago Tribune met me at the Union League Club and informed me that he had been waiting two hours to see me; that the editor of the Tribune was exceedingly anxious to interview me about a matter of great importance, and that they would have to go to press within a few minutes. Accordingly, I went to the Tribune office nearby.

"A statement was there made to me of Mr. White's confession, and an interview was requested. A brief interview was given by me in which I stated in substance that a full examination should be made of the assertions contained in the confession. I expressed no opinion regarding the truth of the charges.

"Mr. White's confession was in type and was on the press when I arrived at the Tribune office. This was the first intimation I had that Mr. White had confessed or was in any way implicated in charges of bribery.

"While I am surprised at the character of the statements made by Senator Lorimer, I am at a loss to know what possible relation they bear now to the charge under investigation—that his election to the United States Senate was procured by means of bribery."

Verbal Display Closes Hearing. (Continued From First Page.) nelly, and took that method of making public retraction.

"In the course of my testimony before your committee certain statements were made by me concerning a Mr. Connolly. These statements I believed to be correct, but it now appears from communications presented before you yesterday that I had been incorrect and that I had been misinformed.

"As stated at the time, I desire to commit no intentional injustice, and I take this means of retracting such statements and expressing to the committee and to the press my sincere regret at the occurrence.

Mr. Lawler to-day said he had also sent to Christopher P. C. Connolly and James B. Connolly letters disavowing any intention of doing them an injury in his testimony before the committee, and withdrawing his remarks, with an apology.

Lawler sued for $20,000 damages. Christopher P. Connolly, a lawyer of Montana and New York, and a contributor to magazines, late yesterday afternoon filed in the District Supreme Court a suit to recover $20,000 damages for alleged slander from Oscar Lawler.

Mr. Connolly, through Attorney J. Wilmer Latimer, charges that at the hearing before the Hallinger-Pinchot committee of Congress May 17, Mr. Lawler wickedly and maliciously accused Mr. Connolly of being a "despicable scoundrel, who would stoop to any depth of degradation."

It is also alleged that Mr. Lawler gratuitously and not in response to any inquiry declared that among these "despicable scoundrels" was a man named Connolly, connected with Collier's Weekly, who stood on the deck of the steamship Republic just before it sank and trampled down women and children in an attempt to get to a lifeboat.

It also set forth that when Representative James asked Mr. Lawler, "Have you not got the wrong Connolly who did that?" Mr. Lawler replied, "I do not know. I understood he was the man who was connected with Collier's Weekly, and he has been pointed out to me as the man who did that. I have considerable contempt for the Connolly connected with Collier's Weekly anyway, and I would not put him above anything of that kind."

Denied by Connolly. Mr. Connolly submitted a statement to the investigating committee, in which he denied that he had been on the Republic, or any other trans-Atlantic liner. He added: "No incident of my career has given the slightest foundation or the remotest warrant for the unjust statement. It is made out of the whole cloth. I think in justice the record ought to show this much."

After this letter had been read into the record Representative James announced that he had a letter from James B. Connolly, stating that he was the Connolly against whom the Republic charges were made, but that he was unfortunely, and had been made by a disgruntled steward, who had fled to Canada to escape being held responsible for making the charges.

It is rumored that James B. Connolly, the Republic passenger, has also retained counsel, and may enter suit against Mr. Lawler.

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVED.

Rev. R. L. Fultz the Orator of Exercises at Woodstock. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Woodstock, Va., May 28.—Confederate Memorial Day was observed here to-day by Shenandoah Camp, Confederate Veterans, and the Woodstock Confederate Association.

Coming down to modern times, he declared that "all of the power of the city, county, State and Federal administrations, under the leadership of Senator Hopkins, Governor Deneen and Mayor Busse, assembled into a misfit organization" combined to destroy the organization controlled by Lorimer, with intent to give control to the Tribune.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

as a renewer of youth and tonic stimulant is one of the greatest strength-givers known to science. It is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain, great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted. When taken at mealtime it stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach to a healthy action, thereby improving the digestion and assimilation of the food and giving to the system its full proportion of nourishment. Its gentle and invigorating properties influence for good every important organ in the body. It makes the old feel young and keeps the young strong and vigorous. Prescribed by physicians, used in hospitals and recognized as a family medicine everywhere.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, be sure you get the genuine. It is an absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey, and is sold IN SEALED BOTTLES ONLY—never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00 a large bottle. Write Medical Department, The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y., for an illustrated medical booklet, containing testimonials and rare common sense rules for health and doctor's advice, both sent free.
